JAP SURRENDER WILL BE SIGNED IN 10 DAYS

The World Today . . .

Japan's Surrender

PRELIMINARIES to the great drama of Japanese formal surrender have been staged in Manila by Gen. MacArthur with firm but quiet dignity—an attitude calculated to remind the Mikado's emissaries that they were in the presence of conquerors but not bullies.

The Supreme commander (who personally remained aloof from the conferences) seems to have struck the happy medium which will best serve the interests of disarming the Japanese nation, both physically and mentally, and so tend to create a stable peace. Some folk are doing a lot of worrying for fear we won't use the Japs rough enough, but thus far nothing has happened to encourage the idea that we are being soft.

MacArthur has been proceeding with shrewd authority. The signs are that the Mikado's emissaries have been deeply impressed, and in fact have known very well that they were in the presence of their masters. The Japanese response to this treatment is said to have been an apparently sincere attitude in furnishing the military information necessary for the delicate task of occupying Japan. This attitude of cooperation on the part of the entire Japanese delegation appears to be one of the outstanding factors emerging from the conference.

The pressing matter of the moment is the military occupation of Japan and it is believed in Manila that this will come soon. The country is in a state of high tension, as it is expected of a public which suddenly has been confronted with the first major defeat in the history of the nation. Under these circumstances the quicker we get troops into the home islands, the better, especially in view of the fact that there are some 2,000,000 Japanese soldiers in Japan proper and these should be placed under military control promptly.

The Japanese delegation in Manila, headed by stern-faced Lt. Gen. Kawabe, gave the impression that it really was eager to carry out the terms of the Potsdam declaration. The consensus among Americans there is that Japan's delays in complying with our requirements have been due largely to Jap unfamiliarity with surrender procedure and to the terrific shock of defeat, rather than to an attempt to "stall."

The formal signing of surrender will take place in Tokyo itself in 10 days.

In this connection there are unconfirmed reports that Lt. Gen. Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, may attend the formal surrender.

Wyoming Sets Record In Ammunition Fired

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Without leaving the safety of Cheyenne bay, the 32-year-old ex-battisep Wyoming fired more anti-aircraft ammunition during the war than any other ship.

Since March, 1942, more than 35,000 officers and men of the fleet have received anti-aircraft training aboard her.

Over 1,700,000 rounds of ammunition were expended through her seven different kinds of AA guns, without a single personnel casualty. Among the famous vessels whose crews fired their first rounds from her decks were the South Dakota, Boise, Franklin, Shangri-La, O'Bannon and Brooklyn.

U. S. FACES BIG YULE SEASON

Biggest Shopping Period Lies Ahead; Federal Agencies Dying

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Here's the reversion score today as America entered its first full week of peace:

1. The nation will have one of its biggest Christmas shopping seasons.
2. President Truman will continue wartime controls where needed.
3. Mr. Truman will abolish wartime agencies quickly, where he can.
4. OPA still is aiming at lower clothing prices; they may come by Christmas.
5. The government won't stop cashing of War bonds, but it wants people to hang on to them.
6. Lend-lease, the 45 billion dollar pipeline to victory, is being shut off.

Gradual Return

Store shelves should be pretty well loaded by Christmas, but they won't bulge in next month or so.

Government experts think many articles of hitherto-scarce clothing—low and medium-priced—should be pouring into stores by November and December.

Total Christmas spending may not be as much as last year. This doesn't mean prices on individual items will drop. But volume of low-priced items will boom—so the economists say.

In a directive to his department and agency heads over the weekend, Mr. Truman rounded up all he and his right-hand men had said last week the government's reversion policy would be.

Briefly, he said: Price control must continue, but only where necessary. Just as in wartime, price ceilings can be lifted to ease hardship or correct inequalities.

The War Labor board will remain for a while. It will continue to handle labor disputes which interfere with reversion as it handled in wartime those which interfered with the war effort.

Steel Foundries Plant Will Resume At Alliance

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Nine plants of the American Steel Foundries company, including one at Alliance, O., will resume work tomorrow following settlement of a dispute which began Aug. 11 over contract negotiations, company officials reported.

Oliver E. Mount, company vice-president, said disputed provisions of the collective bargaining contract would be negotiated by the company and the CIO-United Steelworkers union. He reported the strike idled 7,100 workers in plant located in eight cities.

V-J Day Proclamation Awaits Final Signing

CHUNGKING, Aug. 20.—Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the tall hero of Corregidor who was rescued from a Japanese prison camp by a humanitarian team of American paratroopers, is due in Chungking shortly and may witness the formal surrender of the forces which held him more than three years.

Among the hundreds of Allied prisoners released by the sudden arrival of airborne teams carrying relief supplies were Maj. Gen. George M. Parker, Jr., of Portland, Ore., who served under Wainwright in the final days of the battle of the Philippines, and A. W. L. Tjarda Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer, governor-general of the Netherlands East Indies.

Also with Wainwright in Manila, it was learned on high authority, were Lt. Gen. Arthur Percival, British commander at Singapore when that stronghold was captured by the Japanese in 1942, and Sir Shenton Thomas, governor of Singapore.

Japs Protest "Incident"

The dropping of the humanitarian teams brought a protest from the Japanese general staff. The Japanese informed General MacArthur that the action endangered the smooth cessation of hostilities and asked him to see that no more such "incidents" occurred.

Wainwright, 61-year-old leader of the heroic American and Philippine forces at Corregidor, was a captive of the Japanese for three years and three months. The American general was found at a prisoner of war camp at Hsian, 100 miles north of Mukden, by members of one of the six-man teams parachuted into the Japanese-held territory last Thursday.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China said Wainwright was well and that he was being brought to Chungking.

U. S. headquarters in China announced that Allied air and sea forces would aid in occupying the prisoner of war camps and the job of evacuating the internees. The announcement said large numbers could be released only after Allied forces had occupied the camps.

Wedemeyer said there would be no discrimination in succoring Allied prisoners of war and civilian internees, regardless of nationality. He said the prisoners of war and civilian internees in China included 3,600 at Mukden, 9,000 at Shanghai, 2,800 at Hainan island, 6,000 at Hing Kong, 2,700 at Peiping, 1,000 in Korea, 2,500 in Formosa, 5,600 in Indo-China, and some 30,000 in the Japanese home islands.

1,321 Americans Freed

One team found 1,673 prisoners in the Mukden camp, including 1,321 Americans, 293 British, 67 Dutch, 44 Australians, a Canadian and a Frenchman. Among the Americans may be many who withstood the last horrible days of the blazing siege of Corregidor.

The prisoners broke into wild shouts of joy when the rescue teams arrived, Wedemeyer said. Most of them had been "quite well," and illness was "not unusually

BEVIN PROTESTS BALKAN REGIMES

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Aug. 20.—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told commons today that "the governments set up in Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary do not represent the views of the majority of the people."

All three countries are in the Soviet sphere of influence.

"The impression we get from recent developments is that one kind of totalitarianism is being replaced by another," he told the house in the first full debate on the new Laborite government's foreign policy.

That, he said, "is not what we understand by that very much worked democracy which appeared to be in need of a definition."

(Secretary of State Byrnes on Saturday told the Bulgarian government that the United States considered it did not fully represent the people of Bulgaria.)

BUILDING BURNS AT CAMP ALOMEWA

Fire destroyed the kitchen and dining room hall at Camp Alomewa, east of Winona on the Willard-Cogate farm, early Sunday while the current occupants were in Salem attending church services.

Origin of the blaze is undetermined, but the loss at the camp was great as the comparatively new structure was recently completely furnished with new equipment.

No one was at the camp at the time of the fire and consequently a fire department was not called. Young people of the Wooster Baptist association were holding a weekend retreat at Camp Alomewa but were not at the camp site at the time.

IMPROVEMENTS AT POTTERY PLANNED

Salem China Co. To Install New Circular Kiln, Building

Erection of a new combination "glost-bisque" circular kiln at the Salem China Co. plant and an addition of a 103 by 68 foot building is expected to round out the capacity of the Salem plant and will bring the company personnel back to pre-war numbers.

Floyd W. McKee, company president, said today.

Estimated to cost around $50,000, the new kiln will be used as an auxiliary to similar ones already in use here. Its combination of the two processes will assure avoidance of a complete work stoppage should one of the older kilns break down, McKee said.

The new kiln, which measures 40 feet in a circular tunnel form, will be installed in what is now the cup department. Displaced operations in that department will be moved into a new building, already under construction.

The erection of the kiln is scheduled to begin Oct. 15.

Employment totals at the plant, down because of the wartime short-ages of help, have hovered near the 400 mark, more than 100 below pre-war standards. McKee said the addition of the new kiln and return of potters to their trade from now idle war plants is expected to boost the total figure soon.

A similar kiln is to be built at the plant of the E. M. Knowles China Co. at Newell, W. Va., while the Carr China Co. of Grafton, W. Va., will erect a circular kiln.

Tokyo Will Be Scene Of Formalities

By RUSSELL BRINES

MANILA, Aug. 20.—Formal surrender of Japan will be signed within 10 days, General MacArthur announced today.

Only adverse weather can delay the formal end of the war, the Supreme Allied commander said, as he sent Emperor Hirohito's delegates flying home with detailed instructions on the Allied occupation.

Within 24 hours after their arrival in Manila, the Mikado's emissaries left Nichols field at 1:03 p. m. today. They left behind full details needed by MacArthur for imminent victorious entry into Japan at the head of ground, air and naval occupation forces. They will be prepared, said a headquarters spokesman, "for any contingency."

The envoys were told the date MacArthur and his accompanying forces intend to arrive in Japan and instructed to prepare the necessary airfields, harbors and other facilities for their arrival.

It was expected Lt. Gen. Takashi Kamekura and the other emissaries would report immediately to high government and military officials and perhaps to the Emperor himself.

"We will do the best possible to make sure that all arrangements are completed on time," the emissaries said before leaving Manila.

It was understood the formal surrender will be signed by General MacArthur in or near Tokyo.

Thereafter, a statement issued by the Supreme commander said, he will direct the Japanese Imperial headquarters to issue instructions for the unconditional surrender of all Japanese commanders abroad to surrender their forces to the appropriate theater commanders.

Further details of the occupation should be done to prepare for the occupation.

During the entire session, General MacArthur was coldly aloof and never once met the Japanese.

At the end of today's session, Lt. Gen. Richard E. Sutherland, MacArthur's chief of staff, and the remainder of the American delegation arose. Then the Japanese stood up.

"I appreciate your cooperation and wish you a safe journey home," Sutherland said.

Somber-faced Kawabe replied, "I deeply appreciate the many kindnesses you have shown. I feel them sincerely."

The entire procedure for ending the Pacific war, from Japan's surrender offer through the series of MacArthur-Japanese broadcasts and the Manila conference has been in the nature of a wartime pathfinding. The procedures followed had no precedent.

However, general confidence prevailed that the occupation of an uninvaded but beaten country will be successful though perhaps not without incident.

MacArthur and Aides To Head For Japan Soon

MacArthur and a large number of headquarters officials were expected to depart within a few days by plane for Japan.

"I shall soon proceed to Japan with accompanying forces composed of ground, naval and air elements," MacArthur announced.

"Subject to weather that will permit landings it is anticipated that the formal surrender document will be signed within 10 days."

And he added: "It is my earnest hope that pending the formal accomplishment of the instrument of surrender, amicable conditions may prevail on every front and that a bloodless surrender may be effected."

Previous capitulation made by the Emperor's field forces will be carried out without waiting for the master agreement to be signed, a headquarters spokesman explained.

MacArthur said he would accept surrender in the names of the United States, Chinese republic, Soviet Union and the United Kingdom. After that he would direct the Imperial Japanese headquarters to issue general orders of instructions to Japanese commanders wherever they are situated to "surrender unconditionally all forces under their control to Allied theater commanders."

This may delay surrenders in such places as China and Malaya until after MacArthur signs the master instrument.

JAPS TO APPEAL FOR POLICE ARMY

(By Associated Press)

MANILA, Aug. 20.—The Japanese indicated in an official message to General MacArthur today that it would be necessary for the present to keep armed forces both in Japan and on the continent to maintain order.

Tokyo also asked MacArthur to send officials to investigate "the actual situation in China" in a message heard by The Associated Press monitor.

The message said Japanese forces already had completely ceased hostilities and "intend to carry out the demands mentioned in the joint proclamation" of Potsdam.

However, the Japanese added, "it is deemed necessary to take appropriate measures for the maintenance of order and the protection of the general public."

(The Federal Communications commission in San Francisco heard one message presumably beamed to MacArthur saying that Chungking and Chinese Communist forces were rushing into Japanese-held territory making separate surrender demands, confusing the situation.)

"Let us add," the message concluded, "that the above report and the request of ours is being made out of a sincere desire to carry out promptly our requirements."

Faster—To Stay Where We Are

Fundamentally, the thing everybody wants to know about the immediate future is whether the postwar decline of employment will be temporary or permanent.

Naturally, most persons who have had wartime employment want to have peacetime employment. It is equally natural for most persons whose wages have been higher in wartime than they were in peacetime to want their wages to stay high.

But most natural of all is the inclination of politicians to want to promise the thing that is most desirable—in this instance a job for everybody who wants to work for wages and high wages for all who do not relish the prospect of going back to peacetime levels. Therein lies one of the most treacherous fallacies of our current thinking.

Politicians do not create employment or the conditions of employment. Only to the extent that they understand and cooperate with the sources of jobs and wages are they able to keep the promises they make, and it is a curious coincidence that those who make the rosiest promises usually know and care least about the means of keeping their promises.

In effect, what is being done by irresponsible talk about full employment and ever higher wages after the war is to draw an invidious comparison between wartime and peacetime in the United States. Americans are being encouraged to think of wartime employment levels and wartime wages as national standards, representing what should be normal, instead of what is palpably abnormal. It is only a step further to the monstrous conclusion that since such national standards can be reached only during the course of a war, therefore the United States is normal only when engaged in war.

Politicians and the economists who supply them with statistics to the contrary notwithstanding, the United States needs to be skeptical of the proposition that in peacetime it must meet and even exceed wartime levels of employment and wages to sustain a healthy economic condition. In the first place, it cannot be done. In the second place, any attempt to do it must be virtually an adoption of running faster and faster to stay where we are.

It is accepted American practice to make a golden calf of industrial production, with its blessings of high employment and high national income, but the practice can be carried to a point of absurdity. That point is being approached when the emergency efforts of wartime are proposed as national standards for peacetime.

Among The Non-Celebrants

There have been many pauses these last few days to think of the dead and wounded who paid the heaviest price for victory. But there haven't been enough. Human nature being as it is, it is not natural to count the cost in the hour of triumph.

The latest official casualty toll comes close, in round numbers, to an even million. As between army and navy casualties, the ratio is approximately nine army for one navy, but counting only the dead, the navy's total is more than one-fourth of the army's.

Final figures will show that the United States lost about one-quarter of a million of its finest men in World War II. This total, of course, is phenomenally small in view of the nation's accomplishment in the war.

It is the result of a deliberate policy of saving American life by the profligate expenditure of American war material. In a sense, it might be said that the national debt represents the casualties spared by the rule that lives are more precious than bombs and shells.

In World War I, the United States had a casualty total of approximately 365,000, with 126,000 deaths from wounds and illness. When it is considered how much more action was engaged in this time, the dividends of a life-saving policy in war are plainly evident.

Ambassador Grew

Retirement of Joseph C. Grew as undersecretary of state at the end of four decades in the diplomatic service probably is the beginning of an exodus from Washington's wartime organization. It will be a demobilization with effects comparable to those of the military organization.

Mr. Grew's case appears to be typical of many in government circles. He remained in Washington for the duration of the fighting against Japan because he was peculiarly suited to act as the State department's chief adviser on Japanese policy.

History will remember him as the United States ambassador to Japan at the outbreak of war in 1941, and will judge him kindly in that capacity, on the basis of his reports. He saw trouble ahead; if his warnings were not acted on in Washington, that was not his fault.

He was one of many men found in the national emergency of war for special service of great distinction. A professional diplomat, he merely did his job well, which calls for no special recognition, yet is certain to draw special recognition because of his association with a great event. Long after most things about the war with Japan have been forgotten, school children will know that Joseph C. Grew was United States ambassador in Tokyo on the day Japan attacked at Pearl Harbor.

Surrender

Our Japanese experts who knew why Hirohito should have been dethroned as a condition of surrender apparently did not know much about Japan. Even Hirohito, with his political and religious prestige, hasn't been able to persuade the Japanese to surrender automatically. Most of them are still fighting. The truth is that as soon as the United States, Great Britain and China began to consider surrender as the alternative to invasion of the Japanese homeland and complete destruction of Japan's armies, they had to swallow Hirohito as the only known means of surrender. There may have been better ways than to deal with the emperor, but the bogus experts who said so failed to specify what they were.

Perhaps the best way would have been to invade Japan, whatever the cost in life, with the possibility of surrender ruled out until every Japanese general, soldier and civilian knew what defeat looked like. But even experts, who presume the right to talk about many things they don't know about, don't dare to propose more war as the alternative to surrender. The history of World War I and what came after suggest that Germany was permitted to surrender too soon to save the lives that its resurgence was destined to claim from 1939 to 1945, but only a combat soldier is entitled to guess that Japan may be the beneficiary of the same Allied mistake.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, August 21.

A VERY active and productive day is forecast by the prevailing astral influences. Finances, credit, place and position, in both business and personal affiliations, are under excellent prospects for success and happiness, providing they are not permitted to get beyond bounds by any sort of overdoing or impetuosity. Too ardent or hasty activities might be detrimental, interfere with or complicate splendid promise.

Other factors beside practical business or financial sagacity should be considered in relation to those of social, professional or affectional contacts. Charm, glamor and culture have power in an intriguing manner. But restrain emotion and impulses for happiest results.

Those whose birthday it is may hope for an exceptionally successful, progressive and happy year, with all contacts and relationships under an expansive, constructive and pleasant influence. Promotion, jobs, personal prestige and popularity, with increased finances, credit and standing, are forecast, but with the proviso that all activities and ambitions be kept within bounds and not emotionally, impulsively or excessively handled. Personal charm, beauty, ideals and clever use of intrigue or strategy have force in all relationships, but tactfully.

A child born on this day may have much ability and zeal equal to its high aspirations and ambitions, bringing much happiness and good fortune if not carried beyond reasonable bounds.

Just move to a nice place in the country, or near a lake, if you want your friends to drop in and stay and stay and stay.

People who don't know when they're licked, can't be!

We already are beginning to feel the effects of postwar readjustment in Europe. For instance, the Poles have seized the former German city of Stettin, and now American radio announcers will have to learn to pronounce the city's new name—Szczecin.

Types of Birth Marks in Children

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

SKIN blemishes in children cause mothers much concern. Heading the list of these blemishes are growths called angiomas, the cause for which is not known. There are three types of these growths. The first is the flat type, which causes a port wine colored mark on the skin. The second is known as the hypertrophic type, which produces a deep red-colored mass. The third is called cavernous and is made up of a cavity which is either large or small and contains blood.

There are two varieties of the flat type of angioma. The first consists of faintly reddish marks at the back of the neck, on the upper eyelids and, occasionally, on the forehead. These usually fade as the child grows older. In the second variety, the stain is much darker and more extensive. These marks do not fade and often present a serious cosmetic problem when they occur on the face or exposed parts of the body.

Least Serious Type
The hypertrophic type would seem to be the least serious. Often these growths may increase in size for several months or even years and become darker in color. Then, after a time, the color fades and the growth disappears completely. Hence, these growths often require no treatment.

The cavernous type is the most serious because these growths may become quite large and the only treatment for them which has been found satisfactory seems to be surgical removal.

Another Birthmark
Another type of birthmark is known as a nevus or mole. The nevus may be either flat or raised. In some cases the surgical removal of a mole may be desirable and skin grafting may be employed to repair the defect. An elevated or raised mole is not dangerous in children but if it is located where it is repeatedly irritated there is danger that it may change into a malignant or cancerous growth. For that reason, removal of such moles may be advisable. This can be done either with the electric needle or by surgery.

In cases of moles and angiomas, a skin specialist should be consulted concerning the most effective type of treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

F. J.—Will you please tell me what can be done for varicose ulcers?

Answer:—Varicose ulcers are usually treated by applying what is known as Unna's cast. In most cases healing results within several weeks. The use of a two per cent gentian violet solution painted on the ulcer daily has been found through his column. Address your inquiries to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

570 ON YOUR DIAL

To all Plymouth, DODGE, DeSoto and CHRYSLER owners—

These are the facts as we see them:

Today is a good day to give some thought to the care of your car. There are two big reasons why this is an especially good idea right now.

1. YOUR NEW CAR MAY BE MONTHS AWAY

Some new cars may be made this year. But the number will be limited and it will be months before everybody who wants a new car will be able to get one.

That means it is in your interest to keep your present car in shape for what may be thousands of miles of additional driving. And your dealer wants to help in every way he can.

2. TAKE YOUR CAR TO THE MAN WHO KNOWS IT BEST

He's the Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer. He knows the car from bumper to bumper and he has many reasons for serving you well.

He has the experience, equipment, mechanics and factory-engineered parts—everything needed to give you a dependable job.

So telephone or see your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer and set a date for whatever service is needed on your car. You will find that it is an idea that pays dividends. A little spent for care now can save a lot of time, trouble and expense later.

Red Blood And Red Socks Wrote Happy Ending To One Of War's Strangest Sagas

OKINAWA (Delayed)—The reddest pair of socks in the First Division saved the life of First Lieut. Fitzgerald Atkinson, 24, of Nashville, Tenn., and provided a happy ending for one of the strangest sagas of the war.

Lieut. Atkinson had taken his tank into Okinawa's Mzado valley twice in three days, killing 100 Japs. He had drawn nothing more punishing than mortar fire, which he weathered easily. Then all hell broke loose.

His tank had been destroyed, all but one member of his crew were dead and Jerry had been wounded many times. The pay-off came when eight Marines took him for a Jap, and put a "friendly" bullet into his already riddled body before they realized their mistake.

When their General Sherman tank was hit by anti-tank gun fire, his driver tried frantically to escape, but the impact had broken the tracks. Before Lieut. Atkinson could shout instructions over the tank's radio communication system, two more shells tore home, permanently wrecking his mount. One man was killed.

MANAGE TO ESCAPE

Corp. Robert E. Boardman, 21, of Salem, Ore., pointed to flames already breaking out inside the tank and Atkinson gave the order to clear out. Before it could be carried out however, another shell crashed through the turret, killing the gunner sitting directly in front of him. Atkinson's leg was badly torn and burned, but he and Boardman managed to escape.

Unable to walk, Jerry was attempting to crawl out when Boardman came to his assistance. Together they made it to a cane patch 50 yards away. It looked like temporary safety.

But as Atkinson and Boardman entered a Japanese rifle exploded almost in their faces. A single enemy bullet tore through Atkinson's neck, took off Boardman's right index finger, and split his canteen in two. Atkinson fell where he was hit. Boardman turned into a ravine.

Boardman tried to call to Atkinson, but discovered he could not make a sound. His vocal chords had been destroyed. He decided the lieutenant, unconscious and bleeding profusely, was dead. Unable to reach the officer without exposing himself to certain death

Each thought the other dead, but here Lt. Fitzgerald Atkinson, left, and Corp. Robert E. Boardman meet again at the U. S. Naval Receiving Hospital in San Francisco. The same Jap rifle bullet hit each of them, and both suffered throat wounds. Atkinson was saved when a fellow officer recognized his bright red socks.

Boardman edged his way down the ravine and managed to reach his own lines safely.

Meanwhile, out in enemy territory, Atkinson had recovered consciousness. He tried, painfully, to straighten his broken limbs. A Jap rifle cracked, and Atkinson realized he had been shot in the chest. For what seemed a lifetime, he lay in the open. Finally, he tried again to shift his body. Once more he was wounded, this time in the shoulder.

Moving his eyes but keeping his body rigid, Atkinson saw eight Japanese riflemen 20 feet to the left, and suddenly realized that they were using his body as a barricade while they sniped at advancing American troops.

Atkinson finally moved again. The Japanese shot him in the hip. Desperately, Atkinson gathered his strength and when the attention of the Japanese was diverted by an

Vogelhuber-Kekel Wedding Saturday Is Lovely Affair

In one of the loveliest weddings of the summer Miss Mary Vogelhuber and Motor Mechanic's Mate First Class Andrew Kekel, Jr., exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony at 3 p. m. Saturday in Emmanuel Lutheran church with the pastor, Rev. John Bauman, reading the service.

The soft glow from white candles in tall white seven-branched candelabra lighted the chancel which was enhanced with an artistic arrangement of palms, ferns and bouquets of white flowers.

The ceremony was prefaced with three vocal solos: "Calm as the Night," "O Promise Me" and "Always" sung by Mrs. Frank Diehl and with Mrs. W. J. Seeman the accompanist.

The strains of The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin (Wagner) heralded the approach of the bride. Mrs. Seeman played Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional.

Leading the procession were the ushers, John Vogelhuber, brother of the bride, and Aviation Metal Smith, Walter Lutsch of Norfolk, Va. They were followed by the matron of honor, Mrs. John Vogelhuber, sister-in-law of the bride. Next came Miss Louise Hartman, cousin of the groom, bridesmaid, and Miss Dorothy Zeck, cousin of the bride, maid of honor, preceded the bride, who was given in marriage by her oldest brother, Sgt. D. C. Vogelhuber of Washington, D. C. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Pvt. Frederick Kloos of Fort Belvoir, Va.

Her finger tip net and lace veil fell from a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and maiden hair ferns. The string of pearls she wore was a gift from the groom.

Miss Zeck's dress, made of yellow lace and net over satin, was modeled similar to the bride's. She carried an arm bouquet of orange gladioli with yellow daisy centers and tied with maline.

Mrs. Vogelhuber was outfitted in light blue jersey and net modeled with a tight bodice and lace with a yoke and a high neckline and short sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of gladioli centered with larkspur and tied with maline.

Miss Hartman appeared in a gown created of pink satin and chiffon. It was fashioned with a tight bodice and trimmed in narrow ruffles formed into a square yoke below a high neckline. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow gladioli centered with asters and tied with maline.

The attendants wore short net veils, the color of their dresses, held in place by a flower tiara. Their pearl necklaces were gifts from the bride.

Mrs. Mary Vogelhuber, mother of the bride, wore a light blue dress with brown accessories, and Mrs. Kekel was dressed in black with harmonizing accessories. Both wore shoulder corsages of red and white roses.

One man recently took ERB-HELP three days and said, afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear up stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP! Lease Drug Stores.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY RUSSELL BRINES
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

MANILA — The greatest peace drama of Pacific history is being prepared with the principal actors waiting anxiously in the wings and the precise curtain raising time not known.

Aside from Gen. MacArthur there has been no definite indication as to who will attend the momentous preliminary peace conference.

MacArthur probably will be flanked by his key ground, naval and air commanders. Whether such Allied commanders as Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten will attend is not known, although unofficially it is considered possible.

The Japanese also are silent on their selections—doubtless awaiting a final cabinet choice.

The Japanese apparently are finding it difficult to name military leaders able to speak with authority and at the same time acceptable to the Allies.

Unpleasant Memories

When MacArthur finally meets the Japanese he doubtless will recall many unpleasant memories—the first days of defeat on Bataan, General Homma's arrogant, overbearing attitude in dictating unconditional surrender to Gen. Wainwright and the enemy's subsequent atrocities against war prisoners.

So Gen. MacArthur's manner undoubtedly will be stern, commanding and business-like. The Japanese will be here only to listen to instructions and these probably won't take long. It will be clear from the outset who is in command.

This will be the first time since Admiral Perry opened Japan that the Japanese envoys have come only to hear instructions. It will be the first time since the Russo-Japanese war that they have come to a peace conference hoping for an even break.

Around other peace tables during Asia's modern history the Japanese always have benefited and usually demanded. Their role this time will be a new and unfamiliar one and the men Tokyo selects to portray it probably will undertake the jacket with personal distaste.

Radar--'Silent Weapon Of World War II'

Radar's antennae, which serve both for transmitting and receiving, take various forms. Above is the huge trellis-work type on an aircraft carrier. First installation was a comparatively crude affair on a 5-inch gun of the old USS Leary in 1937.

Radar picture, in scope, looks like this in some cases. Here, a plane's radar has picked up a bomber flying close by. Enemy plane rarely would be near enough to show like this.

City Buys 'Wave'

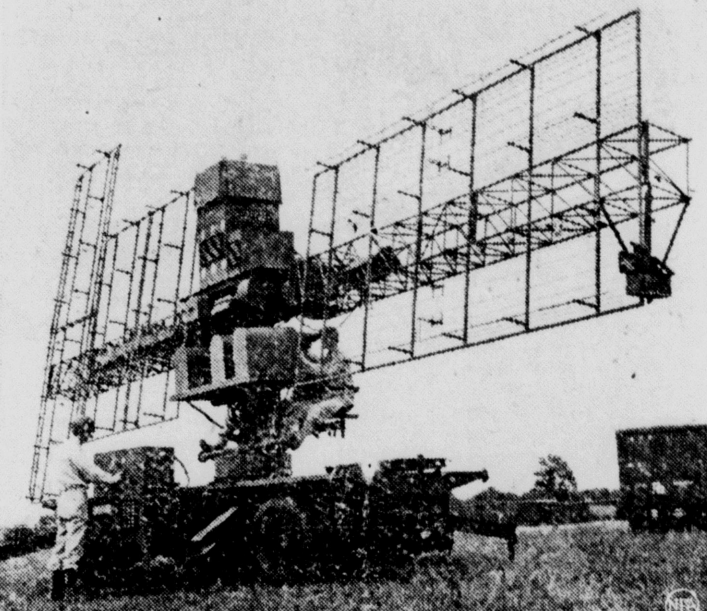

COLUMBUS — Mrs. C. L. Eben. Columbus is going to get a new permanent wave—and the city is going to foot the bill.

But that's not all. The complete bill amounts to $40. Mrs. Eben sent in her bill when a globe fell from a street lamp and hit her on the head. She listed $6.40 for a new permanent, asked for a new umbrella, dry cleaning bills and medical expenses.

The council's judiciary committee ordered legislation drawn to cover the expense.

On this Navy Martin "Mariner," the radar is housed in the hump atop the fuselage, called a "radome."

Anti-aircraft guns are operated by these vertical and horizontal antennae, which automatically hold the guns on their target.

Direction, range and position of enemy ships and planes are plotted on large duplicate of radar screen of Allied ship preparing for combat in China Sea operations, December, 1944.

One of the most closely guarded secrets of the war, second only to the secret of the atomic bomb, has been the development and use of radar, "radio detection and ranging" equipment which, among other achievements, enabled Britain to smash the air blitz of 1940. Radar is a transmitter-receiver. It sends out rapid bursts of energy which rebound from nearby objects and are picked up again by the set. The elapsed time between departure and return measures the distance and determines direction of the object. By recording this information in various ways, radar enables ships to seek out the enemy and aim their guns regardless of bad visibility. Planes can picture topography, even bomb through clouds or smoke or darkness of night. These radar "pictures" often serve as maps of enemy terrain. Ground crews, can detect enemy planes and aim their guns accurately. Radar will even tell whether a sighted ship or plane is friend or foe. Pictures above, just released by the Army and Navy, show how radar operates.

Let Hine Fix Your Car For Vacation Travels

Hundreds are planning vacations now that they can buy all the gasoline they want.

Of most importance is to be sure your car is in condition to make the trip without marring the pleasure by finding it necessary along the way to be hunting a garage to fix up the old car.

Of special importance is the steering mechanism and brakes, if these two features are in good condition and the tires will stand the driving you will likely be safe enough. Motor trouble will simply leave you where you are.

The H. I. Hine Motor Co. on W. State st., Salem's Ford agency, is prepared to make any repairs on any make of car.

Regardless of the maintenance job or need for service you will find they are prepared. Simply give them a phone call and they will arrange the time to have you bring in your car and it will be ready for you when promised and the work will be done right at an honest cost.

Klein Garage Repairs Save Your Auto Tires

The one big worry for most motorists now is tires and all anyone can do about it is to protect the tires they have. Nothing causes tires to wear faster than out of line wheels or other misalignment of the front-end mechanism.

These conditions can be easily repaired if the garage has the correct equipment and tools. The Matt Klein specialized garage has the full line of Bear System equipment with which to work. The mechanics are factory graduates and the garage has been doing satisfactory work for several years.

Any work along the line of straightening axles, frames or wheels making adjustments of the angle of the wheel spindle and wheel balancing is done correctly with the aid of the correct equipment and gauges.

Athletics Post Third Win In Row 6-4 Over Niles Steels

ERRORS, HITS FEATURE GAME

Salem A. C. To Meet Top Ranking Youngstown North Side Civics

An action-filled contest, complete with hits, runs and errors, entertained a good-sized Sunday afternoon baseball crowd at Centennial park yesterday as the Salem Athletics met and conquered the Niles Republic Steels, 6-4, for the third time this season.

Although the locals posted five miscues to four for the losers, they managed to wack their nine hits out in close enough coordination with the Niles errors and tally the largest number of the all-important factor—runs.

Two safe bingles, a pair of errors by Niles and a fielder's choice gave the A. C. their three run start in the last of the second inning.

Niles scored a lone run on Ollie Jones' round-tripper in the first of the third and Salem came back with another pair of runs in their half of the same frame. Two walks, an error and a single by Steve Ciba made the pair.

In the sixth Joe Hrovatic, the winning hurler, issued a pair of free passes and coupled with two Salem errors and a fielder's choice, Niles made their second run.

They added two in the first of the ninth on a single by Bill Dicks, a walk and an error on Gordy Scullion. Salem's total was reached in the eighth when Al Catlos crossed the plate after leading off with the smashing triple. Wait Brian's single scored the run.

Jones' homer, and Catlos' triple were only half of the show. Sam Sygar, Niles shortstop batted out a double as did Joe DePasquale and Salem's Scullion. Mutt Morris collected a triple and Wait Smith filed away a triple for the records.

Carl Lewis, a youngster reportedly on the way to the big time, was the losing hurler for Niles.

A bang-up contest, featuring some of the district's best on a diamond, is slated for Centennial park at 6 a. m. Wednesday. The North Side Civics, currently leading the Youngstown AA loop with 10 wins and a single loss, will meet the locals.

TRIBE STREAK IN TATTERS, NOW ON BRAND NEW HOPES

Nats Shatter Seven-Game Win Record So Tribe Starts New One

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 20.—The Indians have a new winning streak. "They hope" to work on.

The Washington Nationals snapped the Tribe's seven-game string yesterday in the first game of a doubleheader, smacking Al Smith for 10 hits to dump the Clevelanders 7 to 1.

But the Redskins bounced back with a vengeance in the nightcap. Blasting Dutch Leonard and Relief Pitcher Alex Carrasquel for nine runs in the seventh after two were out, the Indians started a new streak 6 to 3. Alie Reynolds, returning to his old form, allowed only six hits in gaining his 13th victory.

The Indians collected nine hits off Niggeling in the opener but were unable to put any together for a score until the sixth when they chalked up one counter on a single, two walks and a fielder's choice.

Reynolds Out

Allie Reynolds was hospitalized for observation as a result of an accidental kick on the head suffered in the sixth inning of the nightcap. He finished the game but afterward complained of a headache.

The accident occurred when Allie, racing to cover first on a double play attempt, fell after a collision with Washington Second Baseman George Myatt. Myatt stumbled over the Cleveland pitcher.

Steve Gromek and Pete Center attempt to keep the Indians in the victory column tonight as they meet the Nats in a two-night doubleheader. Marino Pieretti and Walter Holborow will work for Washington.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH J. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Florida, here we come.... The second thought of nearly every baseball man when he heard about the end of sports travel restrictions was that the clubs will be able to train in the South again. (First thought was the World Series, of course.)

Promoter Jack Kohns solemnly announces that he'll roll back the clock to the good old days by establishing "outdoor" training camps for Jake Lamotta and Ray Robinson at Chicago Sept. 12. Then he explains Jake will train on Chicago's west side and Ray on the south side—neither of which boasts much of the great outdoors.

Bronze Star Medal Given To Pfc. James Summers

WITH THE 11TH AIRBORNE DIVISION ON SOUTHERN LUTON, Aug. 8.—Delayed.—Pfc. James E. Summers, Salem, Ohio, was a mortar-squad member when his 187th Para-Glider infantry regiment was destroying remnants of the Jap army in Batangas province, of southern Luzon.
However, on April 29, when his unit's rifle squad suddenly suffered heavy casualties, the Salem gliderman grabbed a rifle, crept to a forward position, and poured enough deadly fire into the hostile emplacement to force a Jap withdrawal.
Wounded during the action but now recovered and on duty with his regiment, Summers has recently been awarded the Bronze Star medal by the 11th Airborne division, whose citation reads:
"The great courage and devotion to duty displayed by Pfc. Summers reflect credit on himself and the military service."
The Salem doughboy is the son of Mrs. Gertrude Rhodes, 578 E. Pershing st.

Navy and Marine Calls For September Reduced

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Navy and Marine draft calls for September have been reduced from 22,000 to 13,000, Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs said today.
The chief of the Navy Bureau of Personnel reported that the Navy call was lowered from 17,000 to 10,000 and the Marine call from 5,000 to 3,000. The Coast Guard did not originally ask for any inductions for September.
The Army previously had cut its draft calls from 80,000 to 50,000.

LISBON, Aug. 20.—Bassett Walton, 25, of Leavittsburg, was arrested at 2 a. m. Saturday by Portuguese police on charges of reckless driving. Walton, heading south on North Market street, failed to make a turn and crashed straight into the porch at the home of Mrs. W. D. Morris on N. Market st. The porch was knocked off the foundation and the Walton car was badly damaged. No one was injured.

ceremonies. He was found safe in a Jap prison camp in Manchuria. It certainly would please the American public to see Wainwright receive this tribute. He will go down in history as one of the bravest of the brave—the man who was given the terrible assignment of holding an untenable position as long as possible and then suffering the soldier's nightmare—surrender.
Resistance of Japan's crack Kwantung army in Manchuria to the invading Russian forces has all but faded out. The Japs are surrendering almost everywhere with the result that the Muscovites are rapidly occupying this great country after less than a fortnight of war.
So vanishes Japan's dream of building up great possessions on the continent. It was her theft of Manchuria from China in 1931 that inaugurated the aggression which swept across Europe Japan's success in "getting away" with this brigandage encouraged Mussolini to undertake aggression, and this in turn encouraged Hitler. It has been a long and cruel road from Manchuria, but maybe that is fate's way of giving us permanent peace.

high" he added. The names of the freed Americans have not yet been made known.

The men who reached Wainwright's camp had flown 1,100 miles from Sinking (Sian) in Shensi province, early on Aug. 16. They knew they were risking death to bring food, medical aid and encouragement to the internees, since they had no idea of what the reaction of the Japanese would be. The Japanese had been informed ahead of time by leaflets of the coming parachutists.

Brig. Gen. George Olmstead of Des Moines, Iowa, who planned and directed the missions, had high praise for the courage of the teams, many of whose members never before had parachuted. The men, all volunteers, dropped in nine places from Mukden, Manchuria, to Saigon, Indo-China. The Japanese did not molest them.

(The American Broadcasting Co. reported from Chungking that Lt. Col. James P. Devereux, leader of the heroic Marine stand on Wake island in 1942, was safe in a camp in the Peiping area.)

Firm Foundation

BERESFORD, S. D.—Wind and fire have not caused the small congregation of the nearby Zion Evangelical church to lose faith.
Three times within 45 years wind and fire have destroyed the church building. Four times the congregation has built—always on the same spot.
The fourth church was dedicated by the Rev. C. W. Zech, Watertown, who started the first church and assisted in the dedication of the other two.

Pearl Harbor Explodes Again—With Joy

When the flash came that Japan had surrendered, colored flares, fired from every ship at Pearl Harbor, created the spectacular fireworks seen in large photo. None who saw it could help but be reminded of the gimmer pyrotechnical display of three years, eight months and seven days before, when the Jap sneak attack created the scene shown in inset.

White-Collared Workers Eligible For Increases

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Salary stabilization—the holding of white-collar salaries to 1942 levels—has almost passed out of the picture, it was learned today.

The reason: The government's new wage-and-salary policy permits employers to grant raises without government permission if the raises will not result in higher prices.

A government official said today probably more than 95 per cent of the salary raises which employers have asked permission to make will not involve any price increases.

THE ANSWER TO A QUESTION MILLIONS OF MOTORISTS ARE ASKING

THE QUESTION: "Now that gasoline rationing has ended, when will we get that wonderful new postwar gasoline we've been hearing about?"

The Government's prompt action in ending more than three years of gasoline rationing was most welcome news for the American motorist. Gasoline rationing, however, was only one of many wartime restrictions placed on the petroleum industry.

Other Restrictions Remain

Government orders limiting the quality, supplies and transportation of gasoline remain in effect in certain areas. These restrictions will be ended, according to Petroleum Administration for War, as quickly as necessary transportation and distribution adjustments can be made—as soon as American tankers are released from war zones for peace-time operations, pipelines are reconverted for normal use and civilian warehouses are refilled.

Sun Oil Company's output during the war demonstrates its ability to be the peace-time leader in gasoline manufacture. Since Pearl Harbor, more 100-octane aviation gasoline has been shipped by Sun's Marcus Hook Refinery than by any other refinery in the world.

Sun Refineries Ready to Produce New, Better Automobile Fuel

Sun Oil Company's Marcus Hook Refinery, with the greatest catalytic cracking capacity of any refinery in America, and its well equipped catalytic refinery at Toledo are now ready for the production of finer quality motor fuel. In quality of total output, the ability of these refineries to provide postwar America with the finest gasoline cannot be matched.

Sunoco Dynafuel Coming —When All Limitations Are Lifted

As soon as they are released from wartime restrictions, Sunoco's advanced refining facilities which produced a flood of fighting fuel for victory will bring you a thrilling new super-powered fuel for your car—Sunoco Dynafuel!
